

Chain Reaction

I can make a difference by doing the right thing,
By loving, caring, and helping those in need.
If everyone in this world could do one good deed a day,
There's no telling what kind of chain reaction
My come about.
If someone sees another doing a thing that is right,
It may help them step up
And motivate them to do the right thing.
At a later point in time,
One simple act of love and compassion
May start the whole world in a chain reaction.

By Alexandra Williams